NCDA 2000 Executive Symposium

Year 2000 brings a new location and new date for the NCDA Executive Symposium. The Westward Look Resort is a 4 star destination resort in the foothills of the Catalina Mountains just outside Tucson, Arizona. Starting off the agenda is a briefing from the US Conference of Mayors on election year transition team issues as well as a discussion on how to strengthen the relationship between community development and broader city hall priorities. Also, the City of Tucson will present a case study and tour of their HOPE VI program which successfully integrates public housing redevelopment with neighborhood revitalization.

Outcome measures will be a third theme of the meeting, including NCDA's pilot program with Renselaerville Institute and current NAHTI work on the HOME program. Finally, time will be set aside for discussions of NCDA priorities and CD Week activities for 2001.
